Dual International and Australia's most Flamboyant Sporting Personality

WENDELL SAILOR

Join us as we celebrate the remarkable playing career of one of Australia's biggest sporting identities, former Kangaroo and Wallaby representative, Wendell Sailor.

He talks the talk, now he's walking the walk. Wendell Sailor is a larger than life character who is never far from the headlines, just ask him, he'll tell you himself!

Regarded by many as "the most charismatic personality in Australian sport...", Wendell Sailor was an exceptional athlete who is revered as one of rugby league's greatest ever wingers. In a league career spanning nine seasons with the Brisbane Broncos, Wendell crossed for a phenomenal 126 tries in 209 club games, and represented Queensland in 17 State of Origin matches and Australia in 21 internationals.

Wendell's switch to rugby union with his move to the Queensland Reds in October 2001 attracted a blaze of publicity but Wendell's playing performances lived up to the hype, as he was a key strike weapon for the Wallabies.

Wendell is one of the highest profile and most charismatic sporting personalities in Australia. His ability to connect with people of all ages and backgrounds is a very special quality. Having achieved the highest pinnacle in professional sport as a dual international, Wendell is taking his larger than life personality from the sporting arena to the media arena and to our Penfolds Luncheon centre stage this July. This is one not to be missed.
